

Free programs for your visually impaired community

"Helping thousands connect"

International Macular Degeneration Support Group

A 501(c)(3) public service organization

Offer this free service at your center, and become a valuable community resource for senior adults affected by macular degeneration and related eye conditions.

At absolutely no cost, leading experts will come to you monthly by way of Internet audio/visual conferencing to provide presentations on subjects of special interest to groups of low vision seniors. Centers also receive a starter kit, monthly newsletters and other free materials.

All you need is a computer with speakers. Meet with us live over the Internet or access the recorded sessions for offline viewing at any time. A complete facilitator's kit and personal support by email or phone will help you run a successful program.

Since 2006, over 220 centers have joined us from all over the world, bringing vital information and support to more than 3,600 previously "unconnected" seniors.

Upcoming Presentations

- "Research and Treatment for Dry AMD"
- "Navigating Everyday Tasks With Less Stress"
- "Understanding Stem Cell Therapy"
- "Summary of Research and Treatment, 2010"
- "Facng Technophobia"
- "What You Should Know About Glaucoma"
- "Radiation Therpy for Macular Degeneration"
- "Diabetes and Vision Loss"
- "Holiday Food For Healthy Vision"

To view all programs and learn how to register for affiliate benefits, click the IMDSG logo at www.mdsupport.org

Major funding provided by the Macular Degeneration Foundation (www.eyesight.org)